Mission

MISSION STATEMENT AND PHILOSOPHY

Canon Law

A true education must strive for the integral formation of the human person. This is a formation, which looks toward the person's final end. At the same time, we are to focus toward the common good of societies, the Church and the world. Young people are to be raised so that they can develop harmoniously their physical, moral and intellectual talents. This will enable them to acquire a more perfect sense of responsibility and a correct use of this freedom.

Mission Statement

The mission of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Catholic School is to educate the whole child in a Christ-centered environment where young minds can achieve great things.

Philosophy

St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Catholic School believes in the potential of children. By providing direction toward God through traditional Catholic teaching, by supplying a strong foundation in academics and in the fine arts, and by engaging parents as partners, we will strive to produce young people who will make contributions in their world to the Church, and who will move forward to live joyous, productive lives living in their faith.

Goals and Objectives:

Spiritual Goal: To foster a commitment to know, love and serve God and one another

- By learning Catholic tradition and teachings
- By worshiping together as a faith community
- By engaging in service projects
- By developing a strong moral and social consciousness
- By incorporating the message of Jesus in all aspects of life

Intellectual Goal: To encourage each child to attain his or her fullest potential

- By providing teachers of the highest quality, and with high values who inspire children through their methods
- By providing an environment that is happy and inspiring to the child's mind and instills in each child the love of learning
- By acquiring study skills which promote self-discipline and time management
- By developing problem solving, team-building, and decision making skills
- By developing their minds and talents

Social Goal: To guide students to become conscientious, successful members of a global community

- By developing a respect for self and others
- By understanding how actions impact the community of God's world
- By communicating effectively and respectfully
- By valuing the sanctity of all life from conception to natural death

Emotional Goal: To nurture respect, and celebrate each child's individuality

- By developing an appreciation for each individual's gifts and uniqueness
- By appreciating their own self worth
- By growing in self-reliance
- By accepting responsibility for their actions and the consequences of those actions

Physical Goal: To promote a positive attitude towards a healthy lifestyle

- By respecting their bodies as temples of the Lord
- By practicing good nutrition and proper hygiene
- By participating in a wide range of physical activities, both structured and unstructured
